Scottish Women's Convention Monthly Newsletter

Dear Reader,

The last two months we have been out visiting different areas of Scotland on our roadshows. We also hosted a stall at the STUC Annual Congress, where we met with delegates and heard of a range of issues impacting their communities.

Our team thoroughly enjoys the opportunity to connect and listen to women throughout Scotland at these events and we hope you can make it along to our other scheduled events (details below).

Best Wishes
Agnes Tolmie, Chair SWC

The Scottish Women's Convention

Transport impacts the everyday life of women across the country, with each area of Scotland facing different challenges.

In an effort to understand how women would like the transport system in Scotland to change, we are hosting a conference on Saturday 11th May in Glasgow, asking attendees: 'How Can We Make Transport Work for Women and Families in Scotland?'.

What an exciting couple of months it's been with our roadshows! We would like to thank all the women who attended and for their contributions. If you haven't checked out our Dumfries report yet, be sure to give it a read above. We've also got our Inverness and Dundee reports coming soon.

We're thrilled to announce that our next roadshow events are heading to Isle of Skye and Kyle of Lochalsh. We're locking in venues as we speak, but if you're keen to join us, please register your interest below and we'll make sure you're the first to know all the details. We look forward to seeing you there!

Isle of Skye
Monday 17th - 21st June 2024
