

AUGUST 2026

Dear Reader,

Thank you to everyone who joined our conference at the Pearce Institute in Govan. The theme Your Community, Your Say: Women's Priorities prompted an incredible response. Your presence, energy and honest contributions made the day powerful and I'm delighted our Women's Priorities survey received its strongest response to date. All the information you shared will shape our priorities and conference reports, which we will pass on to the Scottish Government and all local authorities.

A special thank you to the women of the Isles of Lewis and Harris for your warm hospitality and for speaking with us during our visit in August, your insights were invaluable.

Please find attached our recent consultation and report on Violence against Women and Girls. Thank you to everyone who shared their experiences with us.

We look forward to seeing you at our future events.
