Women's Priorities Survey

To understand what is important to women in Scotland, we have produced the following survey. This survey will ask you for your views on a range of areas, asking you how you would improve Scottish public services over the 2025-2026 period.

The opinions you provide will feed directly into our Women's Priorities Report, which reflects on the Scottish Government's Programme for Government for 2025/26 and whether this corresponds with women's wants.
