Dear Reader,

Thank you to everyone who attended our International Women's Day in the Scottish Parliament. The day saw women from across Scotland, in-person and online, come together to celebrate and discuss this year's SWC theme 'Inspiring Inclusion Through Human Rights: Women's Rights are Human Rights.'

The full event is available to view on the Scottish Parliament TV Archive, or alternatively you can have a look through our Agenda Brochure from the day.

Best Wishes

The Scottish Women's Convention

Transport impacts the everyday life of women across the country, with each area of Scotland facing different challenges.

In an effort to understand how women would like the transport system in Scotland to change, we are hosting a conference on Saturday 11th May in Glasgow, asking attendees: 'How Can We Make Transport Work for Women and Families in Scotland?'

SWC Roadshows 2024

We have 3 roadshows now live on our website. From the Highlands to the Lowlands, our roadshows span across the length and breadth of Scotland, aiming to gather the lived experiences of women.

Following each event, we publish a report highlighting the priorities of local women. This report is then distributed to relevant decision-makers and attendees, ensuring that your voices are heard where it matters most.

Join us at the below locations and make sure to bring your friends, colleagues or any women who may be interested in attending. We'll have teas, coffees, and some delicious biscuits ready for you.
